CHINESE TO DEFEND NANKING

Japan Warns Against Giving Aid To China

Western Nations Warned "Japan Will Be Obliged To Take Steps" In Situation

HINT IS GIVEN THAT JAPAN WILL FIGHT

Indication Recognition To China To Be Withdrawn As Soon As Nanking Falls

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Dec. 8.—A belligerent warning that Japan "will be obliged to take steps" if western nations aid China was published today by the authoritative Tokyo newspaper Nichi Nichi.

The warning was aimed especially at the United States, Britain and Soviet Russia. It coincided with reliable indications that Japan will withdraw recognition from the Chinese government the moment Nanking falls.

Broadly hinting Japan is ready to fight any western power that gives material assistance to the Chinese forces, Nichi Nichi, in an article entitled "Nanking Falls," stated:

"Confronted by a shortage of money and materials, Chiang Kai Shek is still expecting assistance from Britain, the United States and the Soviet union.

"If third parties continue to give assistance to Chiang's government, Japan will be obliged to take steps for the maintenance of peace in the Orient."

PA NEWC OBSERVES

How about your non-skid feet? Pa Newc hears a lot about non-skid tires, smooth tires, and chains for tires, but very little about ways and means for preventing your feet from slipping. Skidding feet are dangerous, either in the bath tub or on the street. In the fraction of a second your head may be where your feet ought to be, and like as not you'll land in a hospital. Gum shoes seem to be about the only protection for skidding feet. But be sure they are non-skid rubbers. If in doubt, wear chains.

There is not enough white meat in the average turkey to suit Frank Dewberry, so he is trying a little experiment in fattening his own Christmas dinner. He has secured all the right, title and interest, in a dreamy eyed looking gobbler, which he has affectionately dubbed "Santa Claus." He keeps the bird in a white coop at his gas station on the Youngstown road, feeds it white corn borrowed from the neighbors, and gives it milk to drink. If that don't produce plenty of white meat, Frank is sunk.

Christmas Seals to finance the fight on tuberculosis are now being sold in New Castle, and all over the country. Many people do not realize how much has been accomplished by the sale of these seals. Think back a few years and you will recall how general was the tuberculosis, and how comparatively rare it is today. The fight on the great white plague has been carried on largely through the sale of Christmas Seals. New Castle people have always contributed liberally to the fund and will no doubt do so this year.

Prolonged Siege Of Wintry Weather Is Now Forecast

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—A brief spell from frigid weather was promised the Tri-State area today with the prospect of a prolonged siege of wintry weather to follow immediately after.

Icy pavements, in cities and on highways, were covered with snow, making travel hazardous, with many accidents reported.

Tax Revision May Be Delayed

Proposal To Pass Resolution Postponing Collection Of Undistributed Profits Tax

EARLY TAX ACTION CAN'T BE FORCED

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Congressional advocates of early revision of taxes to stimulate business virtually abandoned their hopes today.

A new proposal, for passage of a resolution postponing collection of the undistributed profits tax for the present year, until congress enacts a general tax revision bill early in the new year, was put forward as a substitute plan.

Democratic leaders in tax matters, as a concession to those continuing to demand modification of the undistributed profits and capital gains and loss taxes in the special session, planned to make a statement before January 1.

By that time, it was said, the house ways and means tax sub-committee will be able to publicly outline the framework of a new tax program upon which public hearings will be conducted.

Would Postpone Filing.

State Leaders Of Republicans In Conference

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—Republican leaders from every county in Pennsylvania gathered here today to map preliminary plans for the gubernatorial campaign in 1938.

In what promised to be the most important party get-together since 1936, members of the executive branch of the state committee met with county chairmen and vice chairmen to discuss means of financing the state organization.

At the same time, G. Edward Green, Pittsburgh, state chairman, indicated the executive committee had decided to "pickle" the recommendations of the Republican Crusaders of Pennsylvania.

"Today's discussion with the county chairmen and vice chairmen will concern party finances exclusively," Green said. "There will be no recommendations of the Crusaders' organization presented. Perhaps we'll consider them at a future meeting of the state committee."

Dodd, it was learned, will retire from public life to complete the second volume of his history of the old south, although he may teach at the summer session of his university following his return home.

The retiring ambassador will sail for home aboard the liner Washington in January. His daughter Martha is leaving aboard the Manhattan on Monday.

Innocent Carrier May Have Caused Mystery Plague

Believe Danger Of Further Spread Of Epidemic In Chicago Is Over

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—An innocent carrier of death may have been responsible for the spread of a mystery plague in St. Elizabeth hospital which took the lives of 11 babies.

On that chance, health authorities today examined cultures from every person who might have come in contact with the infants or the paraphernalia used in the hospital nursery.

It was planned to test mice with blood specimens from possible carriers. Samples taken from babies who had died proved fatal to mice. Efforts to isolate the germ, however, have so far proven futile.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen ,president of the board of health, said that danger of further contagion now appears to be past. No other children beyond the original 18 have been stricken and reports from other hospitals disclosed no outbreak of the malady.

The seven infants still under care at the hospital were apparently on the road to recovery today.

Report Two California Families In 'Wife Trade'

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8—In a copyrighted story, the Los Angeles Examiner today bared a sensational story of a "wife trade" involving two prominent Southern California families.

Principals in the "swap" were:

Ira Ashcroft, 54, wealthy Corona rancher and bank director.

Mrs. Hortense Ashcroft Voss, 58.

John Voss, 30, former school principal at Prado.

Mrs. Louise Voss Ashcroft, 27.

The Ashcrofts had been married 33 years when romance juggled the families.

Voss and Mrs. Ashcroft became acquainted while she was clerk of the Prado school, and at the same time the families exchanged visits.

Last June, the then Mrs. Ashcroft and Voss went to Nevada where they remained long enough to gain divorces from their respective mates, and married.

Two months ago, Ashcroft and Mrs. Voss were married, and they took up life on the Ashcroft ranch, with the two Voss children, Jimmie 5, and Virginia 3, in their custody.

Voss and his new bride, with Mrs. Ashcroft's adopted 15-year old twins Rachel and Billy, went to Pomona where Voss enrolled as a student to obtain his master's degree.

All of the parties concerned declared, the examiner said, the marital rearrangement was entirely amicable.

Wage-Hour Bill Will Be Called Up In House Monday

Membership Split As Climax Is Nearing On Black-Connery Bill

MOVE IS MADE FOR SUBSTITUTION

Bi-Partisan Effort To Force Vote On Lamneck Bill Substitution Under Way

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—A bi-partisan movement to substitute the Lamneck wage-hour bill for the senate-passed Black-Connery measure was renewed in the house today following a conference between backers of the measure.

Rep. Lamneck (D) Ohio, said sponsors of the bill believe they can hurdle parliamentary objections and force a vote on the measure on the floor.

Membership Split

With the battle over a wage-hour legislation moving toward a climax on Monday, when the measure will be called up in the house, the membership was split between three bills. they are:

1. The Black-Connery bill passed by the senate, as amended by the house labor committee, with a flexible minimum 40-cent-an-hour wage and a maximum 40-hour-week.

2. The American Federation of Labor bill, providing for a straight 40-cent 40-hour program for all industries in all sections.

3. The Lamneck bill, which would authorize the Federal Trade Commission to declare subnormal wages, abnormal hours and child labor an "unfair trade practice."

"We now believe that our bill will be in order and many Democrats and Republicans will support it," said Lamneck.

Administration leaders will fight to retain the wage-hour provisions of the Black-Connery bill. They adopted a neutral attitude on the proposal to transfer administration of the measure from a special labor board to the Department of Labor.

Japanese Warn Foreigners To Evacuate As Storming Of City Is Imminent

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NANKING, Dec. 8.—Indicating China intends to fight on to defend Nanking, a crack division of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's "own" troops arrived here late today to reinforce the troops now holding the city's fortifications.

With Japanese troops bombarding the gates and a heavy battle for possession of the city apparently imminent, American, British and German embassy officials boarded ships lying at anchor in the Yangtze river.

These diplomatic officials, who were left behind in Nanking when the various ambassadors and the majority of their staffs departed for the interior, will remain aboard the vessels at least during the night, ready to steam away to a safer refuge if heavy fighting begins.

Safety Zone Established

The majority of foreigners, including Americans, remaining on shore took refuge in the safety zone established by a committee of foreign and Chinese authorities.

Police maintained good order in the city, rounding up all looters, who were executed summarily.

The thunder of the Japanese guns pounding the Nanking walls was clearly audible within the capital, but the main Chinese and Japanese forces have not yet come to grips in hand-to-hand fighting.

Nanking postoffices are closed, but telephone service was still operating.

Offers Program For Sound Recovery

Four-Way Plan Outline Is Given

Elements Of Prosperity Are At Hand Says President Of Manufacturers

CHANGES NEEDED TO GIVE CONFIDENCE

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 8—Declaring that business seems to have "frozen in its tracks," William B. Warner, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, on Tuesday offered a four-way program to end the bogey of uncertainty, halt the recession and start a sound recovery.

This program, outlined in the keynote speech before the Congress of American Industry, involves wholehearted cooperation between government, management, capital and labor.

"If each of these groups sincerely recognize its obligations to bring prosperity out of recession, we can break the grip of doubt and uncertainty and I am certain that 1938 will be a year of movement upward," said Warner. "Expansions and improvements that dwarf any constructive activities possible to government are dammed behind tax legislation that penalizes broadened employment, and regulation that stifles initiative.

"The plea of America is for freedom. If, with freedom, we work together as cooperating units in a peaceful society without bitterness or rancor, nothing can stop our progress."

Plan Proposed.

Warner's four-way cooperative plan follows:

"1. For government: Action convincing to the people of a changed attitude toward business. Encourage and stimulate business expansion by repeal or modification of those laws which have contributed to the present downward trend, and avoid new legislation which will create new uncertainties, new fears. Curtail federal expenditures and let the voice of business experience be heard on matters pertaining to business interests.

"2. For management: So far as possible avoid laying off employees, and as legislative burdens are lifted go forward with expansions which will encourage and stimulate economic revival.

"3. For capital: As government restrictions are removed, make available the funds necessary to enable industry to go forward and expand both production and employment.

"4. For labor: Avoid strikes and unreasonable demands which will force production costs higher at a time when production at lower prices to the consumer is vital."

The elements of prosperity are at hand, according to Warner, "if we have the common sense and energy to grasp them, but no single group acting alone can be successful."

JAPAN WARNS AGAINST GIVING AID TO CHINA

of Japan's reported plan to establish a puppet Chinese government by stating:

"The regime led by Chiang Kai-Shek is on its way to collapse into a mere local administration."

Meanwhile, reports from the Nanking battle front, where the Japanese have surrounded the ancient Chinese capital, stated Nipponese artillery is bombarding the city and that attacking aircraft are bombing retreating Chinese forces.

Imperial headquarters here issued a communique stating large bodies of Chinese are retreating from Nanking and that railway lines and roads leading from the capital are swarming with fleeing troops.

With Nanking caught in a trap from which no escape appears possible, government officials and observers here speculated keenly as to whether Chiang, who fled yesterday to Hankow, would surrender peacefully or subject Nanking to destruction.

These advices added that the Japanese advance troops now at the gates of the city are awaiting concentration of other Nipponese troops "prior to a wholesale attack."

Japanese commanders are said to hope the city will surrender unconditionally. Officials here declared Japanese military authorities do not wish to storm Nanking if it can be avoided.

leader of a group seeking early tax revision, said he had abandoned hope after a conference with members of both senate and house.

"I have been in conference with members of both senate and house, find many of them sympathetic to early tax revision, but virtually all agreeing that nothing can be done to force early action.

"I plan to propose a resolution to postpone filing of corporation returns under the undistributed profits tax. Then, if congress revises the tax early in the new year, credit can be given corporations in accordance with the new law."

Rep. Treadway of Massachusetts, ranking Republican on the house ways and means committee, said that 90 house Republicans will continue their effort to get early action on his bill.

Under the Treadway plan, the undistributed profits tax would be repealed and capital gains and losses would revert to the former 12½ per cent rate.

CHINA RUSHES REINFORCEMENTS INTO NANKING

Chinese command plans to put up a stiff battle before giving Nanking up to the Japanese. Authorities in charge of the city's defense said the new division, reputedly one of the best in Generalissimo Chiang's armies, had arrived to replace less experienced provincial troops which already have been transferred from Nanking.

Japan Warns On Evacuation

Shanghai, Dec. 8.—Presaging a merciless, major attack against Nanking, Japanese authorities today warned all foreigners to evacuate the Chinese capital.

This warning, issued while Japanese siege guns hammered Nanking's gates, led to general belief here that Japanese troops may storm Nanking at any moment. It was presumed but not confirmed that Chinese authorities at Nanking had turned down Japanese demands for unconditional surrender.

As the situation at Nanking hourly grew more tense, Japanese assault troops swarmed around the walls of China's smoking capital, impatiently waiting to hurl themselves against its ramparts and plant their Rising Sun banners in the center of the beleaguered capital.

The request for evacuation of foreigners from Nanking was made to foreign consular representatives here by Japanese military authorities.

The consuls were asked to advise their nations to leave Nanking "without delay." A spokesman at the Japanese embassy said:

"The nature of the terrain and the Chinese defense works at Nanking have compelled Japanese authorities to regard Nanking as one large fortification.

"It is impossible to give any assurances whatever regarding safety zones."

Terrorism dreaded by Americans and other foreigners meanwhile broke out in Shanghai when a hand grenade was flung from a speeding automobile into the offices of the Russian (Anti-Bolshevik) Daily News. Printing machinery was damaged and windows broken. The bomber escaped.

SEES MARRIAGE POSSIBLE ONLY IF GIRL HAS JOB

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass.—Hold your jobs, girls, if you want to hold your man.

This is the gist of advice offered young married women by Mrs. Grace Loucks Elliott, noted psychologist and author.

"If marriage is to be achieved, both young people must work," according to Mrs. Elliott.

"The focus of the adolescents today is no longer on sex, but on the economic situation which affects them all. Marriage on the old basis of the wife's dependence is rarely possible."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

How to keep your rooms warm
The walls and roof of an uninsulated house are a sieve, scientists say. That's why you find it almost impossible to keep some rooms comfortable.
The only known effective cure is to insulate. Capitol Rock Wool creates uniform temperatures upstairs and down; eliminates drafts. In summer it cuts "bake-oven" temperatures 8° to 15°. The 20% to 40% fuel saving soon pays for the entire job.
By our patented BLOWING method any type of existing house can be insulated. Write or phone for complete details.

HE MADE IT HIMSELF

THE same sort of faith in his own invention that justified the Wright brothers in their first airplane flights over the sand dunes of North Carolina was exhibited by a Lake Michigan diver, who touched bottom 420 feet below the surface of Lake Michigan and lived to tell the tale. This exceeds by 104 feet the previous deep diving record.

Strapped to the diver's back was a device of his own and of a friend, whereby a combination of oxygen and helium was at all times made available to him, the helium taking the place of the oxygen of the air. The water pressure was terrific, the cold intense, visibility at the bottom only about six inches.

From this first experiment it may seem that this inventor and his friend are pretty optimistic to hope that they can salvage the wealth stored aboard the Lusitania, lying 312 feet down off the coast of Ireland. First they hope to salvage the rich cargo of the steamer Merida, lying in 220 feet of water off the Virginia Capes.

The same sort of mind that would deny this possibility felt that the "horseless carriage," when it arrived, was destined to be nothing but a rich man's toy in a flat country and scouted Marconi's idea of wireless overseas communications. The one safe rule is: Don't be a bear on inventions. Far from past, the age of miracles is our age, and that may be only in its infancy.

WHAT A GIRL!

Young men contemplating matrimony should turn their eyes toward Whitewater, Wis., the home of Miss Lucille B. Cooper, 19. Miss Cooper has just received the highest honors granted 4-H Club girls of the nation.

On the basis of reports we must concede that these honors are richly deserved. She began to make herself useful around the house as a young girl of twelve. Since then she has baked 8,904 dozen cookies, cakes and muffins; made 397 new dishes and 86 garments; canned 5,278 pints of food; led a 42-member club; raised 110 turkeys and has given 44 public demonstrations of prowess in the domestic arts. It seems an extremely modest attribute to this young woman to characterize her as a paragon "that excels the quirks of blazoning pens" and as "earth's noblest thing, a woman perfected."

What a home she should create with her own deft hands when the time and the man arrive!

GET THOSE 1938 AUTO TAGS NOW

The repeated pleas from the Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Harrisburg for immediate application by motorists for 1938 auto plates should be heeded for the benefit of all concerned.

The bureau has a normal office staff and is able to handle the great flood of license applications annually without undue confusion, if they are spread reasonably over the closing weeks of the year. Yet this year, as last year and previously, it is evident that the vast majority of motorists are delaying sending in their applications.

December days fly by swiftly because of holiday preparations. And motorists who wait until the final days of the year to apply for 1938 plates are risking delay of getting them, to say nothing of adding unnecessarily to the woes of the Motor Vehicle Bureau.

Motorists should send for their plates now, for their own sake at least.

WANDERERS' RETURN

Colonel Lindbergh and his wife, returning briefly from their voluntary exile, unquestionably find their native land extending to them its warmest welcome. It is doubtful if there are two other Americans in private life whose homecoming could stir more heart-felt rejoicing than that evoked by the "Lone Eagle" and the former Anne Morrow.

It is two years since the Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh, saddened by the kidnapping and murder of their first-born, distraught by the trial of the criminal, Hauptmann, and harassed by an importunate public, sailed for England in search of peace and a quiet orderliness of living. There is every indication that they found overseas the quiet and privacy denied them here.

However, it may not be too much to hope that their present visit home is a preliminary to their permanent return. Lindbergh is now, and will remain for all time, a shining hero to American youth and to countless thousands no longer young. He and his wife are Americans, not Britons. This is their homeland. It would be good to know that, eventually, they will come home to stay.

ON WITH THE DANCE!

Far from being either decadent or dying, the dance seems sprightlier than ever, if the recently opened Dance International Exposition in Rockefeller Centre, New York City, truly "exposes" the choreographic facts. Indeed the dance is being hailed as a potent cultural force in abetting and cementing relations between all nations, creeds and races because of its universal appeal.

To further prove its aesthetic potency, advocates of l'art terpsichore offer more than 2,000 rare paintings, sculptures, books, costumes and other artistic records of "the glory that is grace," culled from no fewer than 40 countries. International dance recitals are furnishing added visual proof of an allegedly almost-perfect technique.

The exposition's special appeal lies in the fact that it dates from 1900 to 1937, thus making it of equal interest to various generations through its depiction of evolutionary as well as cultural differences.

While it seems a far cry, or a long Nijinski leap, from an American Indian snake dance to a folk number from Finland, the ageless impact of pleasant posturing and symbolic rhythm will deliver beauty's message without need of an interpreter—at least, to those who love the poetry of motion. Observers who come as caveators no doubt will depart as cavorters, so catching is this rhythmic ideal.

The romance between Mr Rose the showman, and Eleanor Holm Jarrett, the mermaid, is proceeding happily except that one has a wife and the other a husband, which may or may not be considered as obstacles.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHY WIVES DO NOT DRIVE

Some dominating husbands sentence their wives to be back-seat drivers. Many a wife and mother must stay at home or go away by bus or trolley car, or wait till her husband comes for her.

Of course, a few mothers, like a few fathers, are unfit to handle a car, but usually the husband, being badly biased, is a very poor judge of the matter.

Long have I been interested in the psychology of the husband who won't let his wife learn to drive a car, acting toward her as if she were ten or twelve. He will insist that she is just too nervous. Why, she would kill the whole family and wreck the car! And then the damage she might do to others!

Generally his conscious motives are above reproach. But, often, underneath lurk very curious nonconscious motives. If she were to drive the car he might be inconvenienced occasionally; she might want to use the car at the same time he would want to use it elsewhere. You see, it also gives him a sense of superiority and self-exaltation to feel that only he can be entrusted with the car, or that only he possesses poise enough to be safe at the wheel. And when his wife shouts or screams warning as he drives, she renders him all the more sure that she should not drive. He may succeed, indeed, at convincing her that she never should attempt to drive.

Would Be Poised

But most wives who are very nervous when the husband drives would surpass in poise, once they really learned to drive themselves.

Now I do not desire to make wives and mothers who don't drive less happy. I want first to help them see that it is not from deliberate meanness the husband has kept them from driving, therefore that they should be tolerant toward his frailties. Secondly, I hope a few offending husbands might read this. For good family comradeship, the mother should learn to drive the car and should have a reasonable share in its use.

To mothers who would like to learn to drive: Let me recommend that you employ some competent stranger to teach you to drive with his or her car. Then some morning, while your husband finishes his breakfast, nonchalantly run his car out of the garage for him. Later, when the car is available, go somewhere alone in it. But be very sure that the first demonstration of your driving which your husband sees is successful. And good luck.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

IF YOU COULD LIVE YOUR LIFE AGAIN—

You stop on the road and you look back over all the mistakes you've made, all the wrong turnings, all the foolish decisions and you say to yourself:

"If I could only live my live over again!"

If you could, you'd go to school longer, you'd study harder, you'd study law instead of medicine or medicine instead of law.

You'd marry sooner—or later.

You wouldn't play so much—or you'd play a lot more. You'd have more real friends—and fewer careless playfellows.

You'd do a lot of things you haven't done—and some of the things you did you wouldn't do at all.

If only you could live your life over again! All the years or just this last year or perhaps only this past week.

You sit under a tree and you "wonder about things." And the more you wonder the less your certain. Sometimes, you think your entire life turned on one small decision you made many years ago.

You almost ran away to sea, but you didn't go.

You almost went to China for an export house, but you changed your mind at the last moment.

You almost did a lot of things, but you just didn't do them.

You did other things entirely and now you are what you are today.

And sitting there, thinking, you wonder about what MIGHT have happened if things had been just a little different.

If you hadn't gone to that picnic you wouldn't have met the girl you married. You'd have married someone else, probably, but you wouldn't have that dear wife or those children who make you so proud. You'd have had other children, not these ones.

The whole pattern of life would be changed for you—but would you be happier than you are?

When you say to yourself: "If only I could live my life over again" you are thinking of the mistakes you made. It rarely occurs to you that often during your life you did the Right Thing.

So pick up our feet and shoulder your pack and start out again, with no backward looks over the mistaken years. You've not done so badly. And think of all the good years ahead and of the many decisions still to be made.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

Dear Miss Merkel: Could you advise me as to what color I should varnish my new living room floor, which is oak?—Housewife.

Answer—Inasmuch as the floor is new, its surface is doubtless good enough to be given a natural finish. Oiling and waxing afford an ideal finish for the attractive grain and color of an oak floor.

If you prefer, you may give your floor a shellac finish and occasionally tone it up with a waxed mop.

Only floors whose surface is not good enough should be stained or painted, as a means of covering up defects and filler between cracks.

The World At A Glance

Imagination Needed By Industry. Observers See Need For Talent. Cite Fairless As An Example.

By LESLIE EICHEL, Central Press Columnist

IMAGINATION, TALENT, VISION, IDEAS! And understanding. The industrial world—both capital and labor—need that to get them out of the present stalemate.

That is the view of many who are observing developments at close hand.

And, added to the other desiradums, is home rule. Not home rule from Washington, as so many propagandists try to make out, but home rule from absentee management.

Otherwise—industry will continue to gravitate toward nationalization.

SEEKING A ROAD

Those who have lived in the midst of American industry all their lives—as has this writer—look with dismay and apprehension on its present frantic pawing of the air.

It is as if a prize fighter had grown old and now were battling straw men, with terrific sound and fury—all the while his family was starving out in the cold.

But America is young. The road to success still lies ahead. If there is murmuring and sudden strike among the young workers is there any wonder? They see old men, or men old in ideas, from afar trying to impose aged ideas on young men. Thus youth sees no hope.

These words I write are not mere thoughts hastily jotted down from my own mind, but the result of hundreds of discussions with men who manage and men who work.

DISGUST

The attitude among men who work in regard to this current business setback is one of disgust and anger.

The distant managements use the same old words, the same old arguments against government and change.

Governors voice absurd commonplaces, in the face of dread realities.

And local officials and police merely add to the confusion and the misery.

While old-line union officials, still bent on mere organization and a modicum of union recognition, imagine that a solution of the impasse is none of their business.

Everybody, by his attitude, but chiefly because there is neither imagination nor broad-visioned talent devoted to a solution, is forcing nationalization.

ATTITUDE A PUZZLE

The industrial world is crying for imagination, an honest facing of realities and an effort at understanding.

A co-columnist, traveling in England, was told by English businessmen and Tory political leaders that they were amazed at the obstinacy of American business to accommodate itself to a changing world, for its own good.

That is doubly striking, for it was American business that led the world for several generations with its striking originality, its fearlessness and its eagerness to give opportunity to anyone who had originality.

UNINSPIRED

What has occurred? Have managements been too largely concentrated into a few hands in New York?

Local managements seem helpless, hopeless and—worst of all—uninspired. If they have solutions, they dare not voice them.

A member of one of the largest corporations in America told me that he so despaired of getting his department out of the rut that he wrote a letter of ruthless criticism to himself—to be forwarded on to the general management!

AN EXCEPTION

There are, of course, exceptions. The United States Steel corporation has had a remarkable "New Deal" of its own. It took the outstanding man of imagination in the

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

LO, THE POOR FISHERMAN!

The general public associates commercial fishing in North America with the Banks of Newfoundland. A Gloucester fisherman occupies the center of the stage when the public thinks of fishermen. Gloucester Wharf supplies thousands of American tables with very edible seafood.

However, the banks of Newfoundland are not the only fishing banks off the coasts of the two Americas. The Pacific Ocean is abundant with tuna, barricuda, swordfish, halibut and many other edible seafood, and many of these fish are canned in the canneries of San Diego and San Pedro in the South. In the North some of the ocean fish are canned, but the North is known more because of its salmon fisheries.

The income of a fisherman is supposed to be negligible. It is not so with the Pacific Coast fishermen. During the past ten years they have been building great Clippers, known as "Tuna Clippers", with a cruising radius of five thousand miles. The last Clipper built by the Marine Construction Company of San Diego was a great boat, of nearly 2,000 tons burden and more than one hundred feet in length, with an approximate beam, at a cost of more than $100,000.00.

The tuna is known as "Chicken of the Sea", for you can make a salad out of a can of tuna that will fool most anybody; they will believe it is a chicken salad.

These boats are owned by fishermen. This last boat was built on the order of a fisherman living in Point Loma, California, but the major part of its construction was paid for by one of the Packing Companies and a mortgage taken back from the fisherman. On one trip last spring, this boat brought back six hundred tons of tuna, sold it to the canneries at $120.00 a ton—$72,000.00 for the catch and the boat was out for six weeks. This money is divided communistically between the Master, the mates and the crew. First, the Packing Company deducts a certain amount to apply upon the mortgage and interest thereon. Second, there is paid out of it all the costs of the fishing trip—food and provisions, fuel oil (the boat is driven by a Diesel engine), and all that. Next, the Master receives his pay, not as the owner of the boat, but as Master. Following that, the two mates are paid a sum commensurate with their knowledge of the sea and the balance is divided equally, between the master, the mates and the crew.

Most of these fishermen at Point Loma are Portuguese, and believe me, there are very few poor Portuguese living in Point Loma.

INCIDENT AT BETHLEHEM

Long years ago he looked at her and sadly shook his head.
"We soon must go to Bethlehem to register," he said.
And Mary smiled at Joseph, "'Twill be difficult," said she,
But the Lord has made a promise that no harm shall come to me."

She trudged along the highway as her time of travail neared.
She heard the inn was crowded when at Bethlehem they appeared.
And then she said to Joseph, "In the stable it must be!
But the Lord has made a promise that no harm shall come to me."

Soon the shepherds came to Mary who had heard the news afar.
To the Prince of Peace, they told her they'd been guided by a star!
They adored her new born baby! Oh how strangely things occur!
And the Lord had kept His promise that no harm should come to her.

Mrs. Greene's role in the invention of the machine that revolutionized the South and made Whitney one of the immortals of American history, has always been dismissed too briefly by historians.

Daddy Browning's Estate $7,246,247

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Edward West Browning, the eccentric real estate agent who as "Daddy" Browning made news with his domestic affairs for several years, left an estate of $8,873,520 when he died in 1934, which had shrunk to $7,246,247 by June 30 last, it was revealed today.

Total payments of $44,282 have been made to Frances "Peaches" Heenan Haynes of Reno, Nev., his widow, but nothing to Nellie Lowen Browning, disinherited former wife or her adopted daughter. Dorothy "Sunshine" Browning Hoof, an adopted daughter, has received $35,000.

Browning left 90 per cent of his residuary estate for prizes to persons or organizations doing the most to improve human welfare.

Stock depreciations have resulted in writeoff of $1,259,841 in the value of the estate, according to the accounting submitted to surrogate's court by the executor.

when he was graduated from Yale, to be private tutor to children of a plantation-owner. On arrival, he found the place filled. Luckily, he caught the eye of Mrs. Greene, widow of the Revoluntionary War general, who invited him to make her neighboring plantation his home while he carried out an intention to study law. He had worked his way through Yale as an artisan, and he made himself useful around the plantation, as well as agreeable to its mistress, by his handiness with tools.

Most versions of the inception of the cotton gin agree that at the time Whitney first went to work on it, he had never seen cotton growing. The elements of the problem of constructing a machine to replace the laborious hand separation of cotton from seeds, he got second-hand.

At that time, surprisingly, the whole cotton crop of the entire country could have been raised on 200 acres of land. In fact, the Popular History of American invention records that eight years before Whitney completed the first model of the gin within 10 days after he had heard such a devise was needed, eight bales of cotton received in Liverpool from a Southern port, were seized by British customs agents on the ground that "could not have been produced in America." The world produced 490,000,000 pounds of cotton is 1791, of which America supplied only 138,000 pounds. But everywhere cotton was high-priced because of the expense of separating the fibres from seeds, leaves and dirt.

Within eight years after the cotton gin was introduced by Mrs. Greene and Whitney, this country produced 35,000,000 pounds of cotton, the U. C. crop multiplied rapidly until it reached into billions of pounds, and the South became for years the richest section of the country.

Whitney did not share in the wealth his fortunate visit and handiness with tools had produced. He tried to monopolize all ginning of cotton, instead of selling gins, and his device was immediately pirated and duplicated by the thousands. He was never able to obtain a patent. His only reward were $50,000 voted by the state of South Carolina, and a percentage of profits on all gins for five years, voted by the state of North Carolina.

But if, as Mrs. Hess declares, Mrs. Greene conceived the gin, then Whitney got more than his due.

On Other Dec. 8ths.—1660—Margaret Hughes, who is credited with being the first professional actress to play on the English stage, appeared in Shakspere's Othello in London. Before her day all feminine roles were presented by men. Shakspere never saw an actress in one of his plays!

1854—Pope Pius IX proclaimed the dogma of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mary. (Exactly 10 years later, Dec. 8, 1864, he issued an equally historic encyclical claiming for the Roman Catholic church the control of all culture and all science, and of the whole educational system.) The fourth son of an Italian nobleman went to Rome in his youth to seek a commission as officer in the pontifical guard. He was rejected because of a physical disability, and became a priest instead. Twenty-seven years later he was elected Pius IX.

1891—Percy Leo Crosby, etcher, water colorist, and portrait painter and cartoonist-creator of "Skippy," was born. Other birthdays today: Kenneth Roberts, b. 1885 great American historical novelist—"Rabble in Arms," "Northwest Passage," "Arundel," etc., E. C. Segar, b. 1894, cartoonist-creator of "Popeye"; Jan Sibelius, b. 1865, Finn regarded as the greatest living composer; Hervey Allen, b. 1889, novelist—"Anthony Adverse"; Rufas John Wyser, b. 1885, president of Republic Steel Corp.; William Henry Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston and dean of the Roman Catholic clergy in America.

steel industry—young Benjamin Fairless—from an independent and has catapulted him to the head of its vast organization. It reached an early and reasonable understanding with the CIO. It has had not the slightest "labor trouble", has renovated its plant at the cost of tens of millions of dollars (possibly hundreds of millions before the task has been completed) and has paid its first common stock dividend in years. Furthermore, it again is able to compete in foreign markets.

Fairless, in the very depths of the depression, found new uses for steel. He also put in equipment that made it possible to manufacture more reasonably by substituting machines for men. When labor naturally protested, Fairless pointed out that by increasing the uses of steel, by reducing its cost, he was adding jobs, not destroying them. He was manager of an independent concern then. "Big Steel" slowly sensed that it needed this new blood.

Fairless is respected by workers because he has managed as one of them.

In a manner, Fairless is as much an experimenter in business as Roosevelt is in the presidency. Fairless, however, is more fortunately situated: he does not have to surrender or compromise—he is, by virtue of his ability to keep wheels moving, a czar.

No Cruiser Cars Then; Retired Officer Recalls

Forty years ago this city had no large police department. In fact it possessed only seven arms of the law. It lacked a telegraphic alarm system, police radios and fast automobiles for scout duty. The department did not have a patrol. In fact a cart which now and then came into use as a patrol "wagon" was privately owned.

There were some tough fellows galavantin' around the country two score years ago and some of them came to grief here. Police had to answer calls to different sections, alone, if necessary. In fact, the department of two score years ago was as far different as day is from night from the department of today.

That is what was gleaned from a chat yesterday with Cy Horner who served in the capacity of chief of police at different times. His service record as chief exceeds that of any other man in or out of the department. He also served as a patrolman, detective and on another occasion as health officer.

Horner was retired after approximately two score years service to the city about a year ago. He is "up in years" but is yet a rather husky chap. He still knows how to use his "neck hold" or strangle-clutch, which he employed on various occasions to bring tough hombres to the city bastile.

Horner was no silk glove policeman. He could be nice or tough, whichever style was required. At no time did he go out to bring in a law violator and fail. Upon one occasion a man held a knife poised to strike him in the back and on another occasion he had to shoot the gun from a man's hand.

He was named to the police force on July 14, 1896. Samuel Smith was mayor. He was sent to a beat and was Patrolman No. 7. In those days one man was on duty during the day time, the others at night. They came and went at various hours. He patrolled for five years at night.

He became chief under Mayor Charles Warnock and also under Major John Jackson. He again served as chief under Mayor William H. Gillespie, which was some years after his return to the force, Horner having been released during the Socialist administration.

For a time he worked as a city health officer. This was during the administration of Mayor Lou Hainer. When Mayor A. D. Newell took over the reins in 1916, Horner was recalled and he became a city detective. In fact, Horner has served in practically all roles in the police department.

One of the most notable captures was that in 1900 of the Phantom—"Snakes" Wilson, who previously had served time in New York and later in Pittsburgh. After Wilson had been released he came to this district and was said to have robbed many homes in Butler, Sharon and this city.

Wilson made a hobby of robbing residences. He used the same tactics in every robbery. He used a glass cutter to cut a hole in a window through which he gained entry and always carried with him his brace and bit as part of his burglar tools, according to the veteran detective.

And then came the night—the gun battle and the struggle on the night of April 7, 1900, in North St. near North Beaver street. Patrolman Horner was walking his beat, alert, watchful and eager to capture any law breaker, especially Wilson—the man who had the entire section stirred.

However, Horner did not know Wilson was here, but he was soon to find he was. Suddenly he saw a man, apparently a workman, walking briskly. Horner approached the man because he spotted him as a stranger and then action occurred.

When Horner went to question the man, a fight started. Wilson was alleged to have pulled a revolver. Out came Horner's gun. Bang! His revolver went off. The bullet struck the arm of Snakes Wilson. Wilson's revolver fell to the ground.

Snakes received a court sentence of 66 years, but later was paroled.

And, then, again a neat capture was executed by Horner. Two men who impersonated federal officers fell into his clutches. They were sent away. Their alleged racket was to pose as officers, threaten someone with having offended the law then demand money in order that they not be prosecuted.

On another occasion, about fifteen years ago, he was acting as sergeant at police headquarters when a man who often had broken the law and been arrested by Horner, entered the office. Horner's back was to the man who entered the sergeant's office.

"Something told me to turn around. It was that something that causes one to act quick. I did and there was (he named the man) with a knife poised for my back" said Horner.

Horner leaped for the man, seized the knife-hand and the struggle started. It did not last long. However, the man who was said to have attempted to stick Horner was subdued and jailed.

Horner was a patrolman when the Blevins murder was committed in city hall and he was also a member of the force when a policeman was shot and killed and another wounded outside the Croton section. The man later was captured and served time.

He arrested numerous pickpockets, especially during the days when crowds travelled aboard street cars to Cascade Park which years ago was the mecca for excursionists from other towns and large crowds from this city.

He has participated in the arrests of persons accused of stabbing, carrying concealed weapons and it might be said was known as a man who neither feared man nor devil. He would go into the darkest of cellars to bring out anyone who was wanted by the law.

In those days the department had no patrol. If police wanted to haul a prisoner to jail they would borrow a newspaper cart that was kept in the rear of where an East Washington street store now stands. The cart belonged to The New Castle News.

Horner had approximately forty years police service. He is hale and hearty and often visits the police station.

Couldn't Sleep Because Nerves Were So Quivery, Stomach All Upset And Had Headaches Daily. Says Vendol Relieved Constipation And Now Is Like A New Man.

MR. P. WORY

"For years I know I was the most miserable man in town," said Mr. P. Wory of 820 Albert St., Youngstown, to the Vendol Man now at New Castle Drug Co.

"I had headaches and terrible gas cramps from indigestion, then other body pains developed until life was almost unbearable. I couldn't sleep at night, and kept losing weight until I was so weak I could hardly keep at work. All the money I spent on doctor bills and medicines did absolutely no good.

"A friend advised me to try Vendol, and this, together with the little Vendol laxative tablets, gave marvelous relief from my constipation and then my headaches disappeared completely and all of my former bloating and weakness left me in a very short time. I have regained all of the weight I lost, enjoy relaxed sleep and am now feeling better than I have felt for years. Now for the sake of safety I keep a bottle of this wonderful Vendol in the house all the time. Vendol changed me from the most miserable man in town to the happiest."

Give this double-acting medicine made from Roots, Herb and Mild Alkalines a chance to help you. The Vendol Man at New Castle Drug Co., 35 E. Washington St., urges you to visit him and let him explain all about Vendol. Also sold by New Castle Drug at 24 N. Mill St.; Schweitzer's Pharmacy and Ellwood Cut Rate in Ellwood City; Weaver's Cut Rate in New Wilmington; and by all leading druggists everywhere.

Story Writers Are Important

Film Successes Depended On Story Editors Who Know Public Pulse

NEW YORK WILL HAVE SODA SALON

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—In the hurrah of glorified movie productions, the figures often most responsible for the achievements are little known outside the studio conference rooms. There is, for instance, the story editor who takes the first big step in reaching the grand finale.

O. O. McIntyre

For example: Jacob Wilk, story chief of a major company, was first to see the possibilities of the smashing Zola and Pasteur biographical type of film. He was the pioneer upon insistence that such delineations should not swerve one iota from the actual historical account.

The story editor lives and works in either Hollywood or New York. He must be an omniverous reader and know that a "Gone With the Wind" or an "Anthony Adverse" will be a best seller almost as soon as the publishers. He must also know literary folk and how to approach them.

Julian Johnson, now retired, was, I believe, first of the story editors to make a conspicuous success, although he was little known outside literary circles. The story editor may make $100,000 a year, and several are so important they are big stockholders in their outfits.

Frank Case has received his advance check against writing his memoirs of the Algonquin, over which he has presided so long. Thus New York' literati will welcome a book to which it has long looked forward. Case, in becoming a full fledged author under his own name, emerges from an anonymity behind which he has long hidden. Under various pseudonyms he has contributed to newspaper columns and magazines and his daughter, Margaret Case Harriman, has become one of the leading magazine article writers of her day.

The Algonquin garnered a major share of its fame because its dining room was the setting for the Round Table, reputedly a group of the brighter writing boys who were simply too perfectly too-too with their cynicisms for the newest Dale Carnegie and who were not adverse to back-scratching and log rolling. Case, with a shrewd eye for human magnets to celebrity, allowed the legend to expand. As a matter of fact, the Round Table occasionally had Woollcott, Benchley and Kaufman, but mostly the chairs were occupied by theatrical pressagents who somehow imagined this proximity gave them literary halo. Many writers have made the Algonquin a port of call—Rex Beach, Edna Ferber, Sinclair Lewis, Irvin Cobb and such—but its real and interesting history is entwined chiefly with the stage. The stage of John Drew, Ethel Barrymore, Constance Collier, Raymond Hitchcock and so many more of that ilk who made it their New York home.

Now and then it is fun to journey to Yorkville's bilious-fronted row of beer gardens on East 86th street. Especially at Maxl's, the Bavarian bierstubl. A number, like Maxl's, have recaptured the hoppy spirit and smell of Cincinnati's Over the Rhine. Waiters and orchestras are in Alpine array—short leather pants and Homburgs with feathers in the bands. And how they tootle the revered German waltzes, the leader jockeying the crowd into caroling the Schitzelbaum song with all stops out. Among the waiters is always a yodeler to give a touch of realism. The best noodle soup in town is here. None beats the German soup makers. Then the Yorkville piece de resistance—pig knuckles with sauer kraut. Kraut that has that salty tang known to epicures as the "Teuton touch." And how those fat bull fiddlers can vroomp, vroompf, vroompf so that one begins to realize there is something to the big violin after all.

Soda elegance: The old 5-cent soda attains the pinnacle of pomp in a place to be opened in the fashionable 60's spang off Park avenue next spring. An old and decaying mansion is to be razed and on the site will be reared a white marble mosque—suggesting the Taj Hahal. The soda salon will be two stories high. The first will be given over entirely to an enormous soda fountain with tables and the soda will be tariffed 40 cents a glass with some especially la-de-dah sundaes running as high as 60 cents. The second floor will feature a deluxe home dinner to be served at $4 week days and $5 Sundays.

From a news item: "This is the second pair of twins born to the mother who was formerly a telephone operator."

The wrong number again!

Arguments were heard yesterday in the mandamus case of Constable Frank C. Conner against the County of Lawrence, to compel the payment of fees for attending the primary election and the general election. The outcome of the case is awaited with interest by all the constables of the county.

Jury Commissioners B. Frank Thorn and George Forrest have completed filling the jury wheel for the year 1938. Fifteen hundred names were placed in the wheel. This includes the names drawn out during the past year for terms of court which were cancelled. The names were placed back in the wheel, and it is expected that they will be drawn out during the coming year.

In compliance with a request from James J. Gordon, chairman of the governor's commission for the study of the parole and probation system of the state, County Parole Officer Jack M. Dunlap has prepared an exhaustive report of his activities in Lawrence county. Mr. Dunlap also handles the payments made in desertion and non-support cases. Formerly where the court ordered husbands to pay their wives weekly or monthly allowances, the payments were made to attorneys. Of recent years the payments have been made to Dunlap. He keeps a close check and the new system has proven much more satisfactory than the old.

In a summary of his work during the past year in connection with juvenile cases Mr. Dunlap makes a report from the beginning of the year up to December 1st. As of this date it is as follows:

Juvenile cases as of December 1, 124.

Juvenile cases in Pennsylvania training school, 7.

Juveniles in Elmwood home, 3.

Juveniles in Oakdale Industrial home for boys, 2.

Juveniles in Davis home for colored children, 1.

Juveniles in Margaret Henry home, 2.

Juveniles in Crawford Oak Ridge home, 3.

Juveniles in Selingsgrove state colony, 1.

Juveniles in Foster homes (with families), 25.

Secured homes or assisted in adoptions, 14 cases of children where adoption proceedings have been completed.

Number of individuals in detention home to date, 79.

Number of institutional days in detention home to date, 2,196, or an approximate average of six per day.

Handled crippled or other children to clinic at Elizabethtown, Butler, Pittsburgh and Rochester, 17, several of these on many occasions.

In ten years the local population at Morganza has been decreased from 55 to 7.

In childrens' homes decreased from 50 to 5.

Expense has been decreased from about $23,000 to $18,000. The usual time for each child in Morganza or Pennsylvania training school is two years.

In the matter of paroles the following data is given: Total number of persons paroled from county prison between January 1, 1935 and October 1, 1937, was 53 straight paroles and 21 conditional.

Total number of persons on parole October 1, 1937 was 25 straight and one conditional.

Those who are on parole must report regularly to Dunlap. If they do not, he goes after them.

The report gives the number placed on probation, the number of expirations, and the number re-arrested from January 1, 1935 to October 1, 1937, and the disposition as follows:

Released on probation, 158; discharged at expiration of probation, 67; active cases to date, 64; processes issued, 7; re-arrested and sentenced, 20.

A statement of the costs and fines collected in quarter sessions court in parole and probation cases from January 1, 1936 to November 30, 1937, shows a total of $4,591.92.

The data regarding desertion and non support cases handled shows that as November, 30th, there were 125 desertion and non-support cases on the record.

From March 27, 1935 to November 27, 1937 the total amount of money collected, was $32,873.93.

A comparison of the number of juvenile cases over a period of years is shown by the following figures:

1926 cases, 63; 1927 cases, 72; 1928 cases, 78; 1929 cases, 38; 1932 cases, $40; 1931 cases, 94; 1932 cases, 56; 1933 cases, 71; 1934 cases, 66; 1935 cases, 89; 1936 cases, 87; and 1937 to date, 28.

In reply to a suggestion asking for comments Mr. Dunlap, among other things says:

"I can sincerely state that I can see little or no fault in the present parole act as it pertains to the court of quarter sessions.

"In twelve years as parole officer and four as county detective, I cannot see where any politics has entered into the granting of paroles in the courts of this county, but however, it has often had this appearance in our State Pardon Board, and in my opinion this is where, if any change should be made, I am of the opinion that there should be a non-partisan pardon board, entirely free from political influence, to pass on the granting of paroles and pardons, from all state institutions, yet not to include the workhouse nor the county jails, which should be left to the hands of the court of sentence. Every pardon for first degree murder should have the approval of the governor.

"In regard to release on probation, I am very much in favor of the system used in this county. The probation officer is the only official directly at the court's command, and the office is generally known as a non-political one operating in a general sense on a non-partisan basis, unbiased and uninfluenced in the outcome of a prosecution, hence the probation officer is in a position to give a fair and impartial report.

"Another feature of the probation office is that it keeps permanent files and records of all cases."

Quiet Christmas For Little Lindys

Noted Flier's Sons To Spend Christmas With Governess In England

(Copyright, 1937)
(International News Service)

WEALD, Kent, Eng., Dec. 8.—The two sons of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh will spend Christmas in the company of a governess and two nurses at Long Barn, the aviator's picturesque cottage near here, it was learned today.

Before he left on his sudden and secret dash to the United States, Col. Lindbergh outlined the Christmas plans to his staff. Unless some last-minute change is made, the children will remain here instead of spending the day with Mrs. Lindbergh's sister, Mrs. Aubrey Neil Morgan, in Wales.

Rejoin Them Soon

The colonel told his household staff he and Mrs. Lindbergh hoped to be able to rejoin their children at the middle or the end of January. At first he toyed with the idea of taking the children with him, but dismissed it when he realized their presence would make secrecy virtually impossible.

The entire family, accompanied by the nurses and governess, went to London by railway a few weeks ago, it was learned, remaining there a few days. The children and servants then returned to Long Barn while the Lindberghs proceeded to Southampton until it was time for them to embark on the liner President Harding.

Homesickness, it was established, was one of the chief reasons why Mrs. Lindbergh wishes to spend Christmas with her mother, while the colonel had "urgent personal business" to attend to.

Tentative Date Set For Civil Service Exams

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—Thursday, December 30, was set today as a tentative date for the new civil service examinations abruptly postponed last week by the unemployment compensation board after the sudden discovery that an apparent attempt had been made to transmit the questions and answers to an applicant.

"As soon as we hear from the administrators in Pittsburgh, Erie, Ebensburg, Harrisburg, Philadelphia and Wilkes-Barre, we will be able to make the announcement," said Robert L. Myers, chairman of the board, who sent telegrams to the various cities asking confirmation of the tentative date.

A chief of the program, Frederick Kissinger of Philadelphia, was suspended by Myers after the discovery and investigation of the case was placed with the state police. Tests were intended for 12,000 applicants for some 1,500 jobs to be filled in the new department of compensation which begins functioning on January 1.

Australian Actress Divorces Brent

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8—In marked contrast to their bitterly fought annulment suit last summer, blonde Constance Worth of the films on Tuesday obtained a quiet and speedy divorce from George Brent, handsome screen star.

The blonde Australian actress, who earlier defeated her husband's efforts to have their Mexican marriage declared void, won a decree in a few minutes. She charged only that Brent remained away from their home on several occasions without explanation, and that he was sullen and morose when he was at home.

Brent did not contest the suit, and his attorney joined with Miss Worth's counsel in announcing a property settlement had been effected out of court.

To serve the customers of this Pennsylvania Bell Company, more than 317 million dollars' worth of telephone plant and equipment is required!

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—When dictatorially-governed Brazil becomes so dominant in South America that a North American news correspondent is ordered out of the Argentine republic because Brazil disapproves of him the Latin American Fascist trend begins to appear so obvious that one would think Uncle Sam really must start to do some worrying concerning it.

Recent dispatches relate that such an expulsion decree had been issued in the case of John W. White, chief South American representative of the New York Times, with headquarters in Buenos Aires, the Argentine capital.

It was not, it seems, that the Argentine authorities had any particular fault to find with him, so far as they themselves were concerned. But his news reports, appearing in the United States, were giving so much offense to the Rio de Janeiro (Brazil) dictatorship that Brazilian President Vargas told Argentina he would consider it "unfriendly" if the latter country continued to "harbor" him. Evidently Argentina preferred not to be so considered.

WHY THE CHANGE?

This is rather peculiar. Traditionally official relations between the Argentines and Brazilians have been, not exactly unfriendly, but not overly cordial. Only as lately as a few months ago, when there was talk of the lease of half a dozen small obsolete Yankee warships to Brazil, Argentina resented the suggestion hotly.

Why so sudden a change in the Argentine attitude?

It is nice to think of pleasanter terms between these two big Latin American countries, but not so nice to think of it as at the expense of an honest North American news correspondent.

AN IMPARTIAL OBSERVER

I know John White very well.

I believe him to be the best North American newspaperman south of Key West in this hemisphere.

He has lived below the equator for 30 years. Many journalists, long away from home, lose touch with sentiment in the land of their origin. John White, somehow, remained a North American. At the same time, he has soaked up Latin American feeling. He speaks Spanish and Portuguese like a native. He has a Latin American wife and family. In short, he is a South American—and yet, a North American.

And "on the level?" That is the "trouble". He tells the truth as he sees it.

As Bobby Burns remarked:

"Here's health to him that would read.
Here's health to him that would write.
There's none ever feared that the truth should be heard,
Save them that the truth would indict."

John's truth (indictments) causes the Latin American dictatorships to complain.

John originated and started his news career in Missouri.

In the course of time he landed in the consular service in Buenos Aires (Argentina). He had been a newspaperman previously, and, out of a vice consulate, he re-graduated into the newspaper business, as correspondent for the Associated Press. The A. P. wanted to transfer him to Spain. He would not go, having become wedded to the Argentine. The A. P. insisted; so he switched to the New York Times.

It was the A. P.'s loss, I think.

ONCE PREVIOUSLY

The Argentine is a democratic country basically, but it has occasional dictatorial spasms.

It had one a few years ago, during which I understand that John had to transfer his base of operations from Buenos Aires (Argentina) to Montevideo (Uruguay). It is, in effect, a Buenos Aires suburb, a short night's steaming across the Rio de la Plata from the bigger city.

But "B. A." and "Monty" are in different countries.

You can be "canned out" of "B. A." and yet be as independent as you please in "Monty".

SPEAKING OF URUGUAY—

I suppose that, again "fired" from Buenos Aires, John will return to Montevideo, and continue to express himself as freely as before.

However, there is this to be taken into account:

Uruguay, while consistently a very liberal republic, is an extremely small pewee, pinched in between powerful Argentina and still more powerful Brazil. Will it have the nerve to defy its formidable neighbors?

Maybe. Uruguay is a "sassy" little country.

I hope so.

Little Bits Of This And That About Ellwood

While ashing the Ellwood-Zelienople road during the heavy snow storm on Sunday afternoon, state highway workers came upon a car that had skidded and turned over, with the driver at a loss to know what had happened. The driver and his wife said they were natives of California state and that this was the first time they had ever seen actual snow.

A modern dramatization to be presented on Friday evening by the senior class of Lincoln high school concerns an old favorite novel that was popular 60 years ago, "Lena Rivers". A prominent Beaver county resident who became widely known in law circles always said as a boy he acquired his first taste for reading, that very necessary requisite for law students, in the novel, "Lena Rivers".

An unusual sight noticed along many of our highways is frozen fruit hanging on the trees, while many children suffer for lack of vitamins contained in apples, plums, etc., which are never utilized by the owners. An entire orchard of Damson plums was noticed on a farm on the Ellwood-New Brighton road recently, which apparently had been left untouched.

SHE GOES THE LIMIT when it comes to dressing well... why does she stop half way on "U. O."?

Some women go only half way when checking "U. O." (under-arm odor). They use something to merely remove odor. But because they don't STOP perspiration, their dresses become wet and stained under the arm, their arm-pits acquire odor from the perspiration that flows after deodorizing.

Why do these women go only half-way? Do they think there's more fuss and trouble in using a preparation that stops perspiration? Do they think such preparations may harm their skin or rot clothing? That's not true any more.

New Cream Deodorant Safely Stops Perspiration... takes only a few seconds to use.

1. Does not rot dresses—does not irritate skin.
2. No waiting to dry.
3. Can be used right after shaving.
4. Stops perspiration and odor 1 to 3 days.
5. A white, greaseless, vanishing cream.

Play safe—insist on Arrid, the only deodorant to stop perspiration which has been awarded the Seal of Approval of the American Institute of Laundering for being harmless to fabric.

When the Ben Franklin Junior high school stage curtain goes up Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, the public audience out front will be in for the kind of an entertainment treat an audience seldom sees here—at Franklin they've officially billed it "The Singing Seamen Minstrel."

An all-boy chorus numbering between 70 to 75 singers is one of the main supports of the show which will parade band numbers, solos, tumbling and deck sports, a prize fight, old-fashioned dance—all a laugh from beginning to end. Rehearsals were being brought to a close today.

"Everything's ready," said Principal Frank L. Burton today. He predicted a hit show with first-class entertainment for any who want to attend. He said teachers and students have been working hard for weeks.

Novel Ideas In Christmas Plays At Westminster

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 8.—Continuing his experimental work in Westminster's Little Theatre, Director A. T. Cordray will direct three Christmas season selections, Wednesday through Saturday night, December 8-11.

CORDRAY

Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol" will be done entirely in silhouettes thrown on a white screen, giving a Christmas card effect. The "Second Shepherd's Play" scenery was painted by projecting an actual 15th century setting onto screens, and then pointing in the design. The third play, "Dust on the Road," has as its setting Christmas Eve in the life of a crook.

AROUND CITY HALL

One rule which city officials have enforced each winter is that all fire and police department automobiles and trucks be equipped with chains immediately when snow falls to such an extent that an accident by skidding is possible.

The first move toward testing the constitutionality of the new 44-hour week law will be launched in Dauphin county court today when a Kane private industry requests a restraining order against enforcement of the act. The city of New Castle officials, now preparing 1938 appropriations, do not propose to make appropriations for extra employes which would be required were the act found valid, it has been stated.

The time is drawing near when the 1938 budget will be completed. Under the provisions of state law it must be posted for scrutiny for 20 days. This was brought about by a new budget law which was complied with last fall. It has been asserted by officials that no plans are made for wage increases and that they will endeavor to keep the cost of operating the city within the present tax millage. No doubt council will inform the public soon whether or not this will be possible.

Twelve Entrances For All-Weather State Highway

Plans Proceeding For New Four-Lane Highway Across Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—Pennsylvania's projected all-weather highway between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh will be constructed to enable traffic to enter or leave the divided four lanes at about 12 points along the 162-mile route, it was announced today.

Following a meeting with Secretary of Highways Warren Van Dyke, The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission disclosed eight preliminary locations have already been agreed upon for the cloverleaf connections by which vehicles can enter or leave without interrupting traffic.

Provisionally, the locations were at Irwin, Arona and New Stanton Westmoreland county; Bedford and Breezewood, Bedford county; Roxbury and Willow Hill, Franklin county ,and Middlesex, Cumberland county. Surveys are still in progress for three other locations at Somerset, Somerset county; Everett, Bedford county, and at Fort Littleton, Fulton county.

The entrances, the commission said, will be from four to 37 miles apart.

R. B. Stone, engineer in charge of the project, reported 15 survey parties are now at work. He recommended to the commission that the east and west bound traffic lanes be separated by a distance of half a mile between the Allegheny tunnel and New Galtimore in order to save construction costs.

Patriotic Service At Trinity Church

Service On Sunday To Commemorate Ratification Of Constitution

A popular patriotic service will be held in Trinity church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in commemoration of the ratification of the Constitution of the United States by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which occurred on December 12, 1787. This is a part of the Sesquicentennial, and follows the plan of the Congressional Commission.

In his address, from original sources, The Rev. Philip C. Pearson will describe the conflict of opinion which resulted in bitter feeling before the ratification and will tell of the mob violence in some places and the rejoicing in others afterward. The significance of the stirring events of 1787 will be interpreted in terms of the problems confronting the state and country today and the application of Christianity to them.

Americanism: Hating the stupid brutality that exterminated the passenger pigeon, parakeet and heath hen; doing nothing to save our ducks and rarer birds that remain.

"Warm Away" the tightness of your CHEST COLD

Everyone knows the soothing comfort of the hot cloth, the hot water bottle, the electric pad! Each generation has had its favorite method of applying heat to the body to relieve congestion and discomfort.

Today—the modern way to "warm away" tightness and pressure of your chest cold is with Penetro, the super-medicated, mutton-suet base family salve.

When a chest cold brings you that "congested feeling," rub on Penetro and feel quick, comforting relief. Because Penetro is super-medicated with 113% to 227% more medication than any other nationally sold cold salve, it creates thorough counter-irritant action to increase blood flow and stimulate greater body heat. That's why Penetro makes your cold discomfort feel so much easier.

Not only does Penetro help to create this increased body heat but because it is made with an animal fat base of mutton suet, it helps to "hold in" this heat by conserving and concentrating it. The aromatic vapors of Penetro are inhaled into nasal passages to open up stuffy noses, make breathing easier. Trial size, 10c. Economy size jars, 35c, 60c and $1.

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 8—America is entering a new business era and the "next ten years should outstrip the previous twenty."

Lammot DuPont, president of E. I. DuPont De Nemours and Company, made this optimistic statement Tuesday in a luncheon address at the 42nd congress of American industry and convention of the National Association of Manufacturers.

He revealed that in his own company "certain projects" which had their genesis as far back as eight and ten years ago are only now coming to fruition.

New Industries

New industries, such as air conditioning, rayon, plasitics and radio were twenty or more years in developing their present momentum, DuPont told the business leaders.

DuPont tempered his optimism, however, by calling attention to the "fog of uncertainty" that is blanketing industry at present. Amid a burst of applause he pleaded:

"Give industry a reasonable degree of certainty upon which it can count in planning current and future operations. In short, lift the fog and let us see the road we must travel."

All forward-looking industrial activity is planned. DuPont pointed out, adding:

"It is based on what the planners believe will be the needs and conditions of one, five, ten or even twenty years hence.

"Before a new factory is built or an old one enlarged, before a pound of raw materials is ordered or a dollar is appropriated for wages, advertising or other expenses, industry must know with some reasonable degree of certainty the conditions that will prevail once the wheels begin turning.

"Obviously, then, when the future is uncertain, business is uncertain."

Factors In Uncertainty

DuPont then went into the factors causing the uncertainty, saying:

"Uncertainty rules the tax situation. The labor situation, the monetary situation, and practically every legal condition under which industry must operate.

"Are taxes to go higher, lower or stay where they are?

"Is labor to be union or non-union, is the A. F. of L. or the C. I. O. to dominate it?

"It is impossible to guess at the answers. Are we to have inflation or deflation, more government spending or less?

"Industry is without a scrap of knowledge on either subject.

"Are new restrictions to be placed on capital, new limits on profits? Industry doesn't know.

"The whole future is a gigantic question mark."

He urged simplification of the tax structure, asserting:

"The present fear that we face a rapidly ascending tax scale, as well as new taxes, the nature of which nobody can guess, stands like a wall in the path of industrial expansion."

Sentence Two For Attempt To Dynamite Train

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 8.—Ernest Layton, 21, and Washburn Rager, 40, implicated in an attempt to dynamite a train near Bethlehem Steel's wire mill here last July 2, today were under sentence of nine months and four years respectively under order of President Judge John H. McCann.

Lewis Pegg of Oakhurst, chairman of the Conemaugh lodge of the Conemaugh & Blacklick Railroad Brotherhood, also was implicated in the case but was acquitted by a jury at the September term of court.

Don't Neglect a Cold

Rub soothing, warming Musterole well into your chest and throat.

Musterole is NOT just a salve. It's a "counter-irritant" containing good old-fashioned cold remedies—oil of mustard, menthol, camphor and other valuable ingredients.

That's why it gets such fine results—better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Musterole penetrates, stimulates, warms and soothes, helpful in drawing out local congestion and pain. Used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists'. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

Veteran Printer Dies On Tuesday

C. L. Grigsby, 56, Succumbs Suddenly At His Residence In Pittsburgh

C. L. Grigsby, 56, executive secretary of the Allegheny County Funeral Directors Association and a veteran Pittsburgh newspaper printer, died suddenly Tuesday at his home, 231 Fisk street, Pittsburgh.

Mr. Grigsby succumbed a few hours after he had finished preparing notices for members of the association to attend memorial services for the late F. C. Beinhauer, Sr., prominent West Liberty avenue mortician. His death was the fourth among association members in two days.

Born in Lawrence county, Pa., Mr. Grigsby was a printer all his life. At the time of his death he was an employe of the Post-Gazette. Previously he had worked for the old Pittsburgh "Post," as well as for newspapers in Louisville, Ky., and Atlanta, Ga. He was a World War veteran with two years' overseas service.

He is survived by his widow, Emily Carr Grigsby.

Funeral services will be held Friday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Beinhauer Mortuary, 2630 West Liberty avenue, Pittsburgh. Interment will be private.

Fifteen Colleges To Share Program

Pre-Season Debate Tournament At Westminster College On Saturday, December 11

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 8—Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary forensics fraternity, Westminster college, will bring debate-representatives from fifteen district and state colleges to the campus Saturday, December 11, for the annual pre-season debate tournament. Arrangements for the tournament will be in charge of Mr. Glenn Taylor, debate coach, and Jack Harris, Aliquippa, T. K. A. president.

Registration will begin at 1 o'clock Saturday, and three rounds will follow in the afternoon. For the first time in the history of the tournaments, all-girl debate teams will be invited, last year co-ed teams for the first time were allowed. The fourth round, following a dinner in the Presbyterian church, will complete the program. Dr. Robert Galbreath and faculty members will be guests at the dinner.

Although members of TKA will act as chairmen and time-keepers of the various debates, the coaches of colleges represented will set as judges. Probable members of the Westminster teams, negative and affirmative, will be Robert Henderson, Avalon; Charles Shaffer, Mahoningtown; Rex Rowland, New Castle and Paul Horn, Charleroi.

The question to be debated is, "Resolved that the National Labor Relations Board should be empowered to enforce arbitration of industrial disputes." All debates are open to the public.

Attorney Thomas Mansell, instructor in history at Westminster, is TKA sponsor.

ASSISTS AT FUNERAL

Rev. A. T. Williams, pastor of the Hoover Heights tabernacle, assisted at the funeral service of Mrs. Sarah Ann Davis, held in Sharon yesterday.

To preserve the color and texture of strawberry jams and jellies, they should be sotred in a dark cool place.

Seeds of plants that are to be saved should be carefully watched for and protected. It is a good plan to mark those stalks which are especially good so that their seed will certainly be salvaged. A small cheese cloth sack may be tied about the flower so the seeds will not escape.

Railroads in the United States spent 37 million dollars for rails in 1936, the largest sum spent for that purpose since 1931.

Leagues Select Different Balls

National Picks "Deader" Ball; American Retains Livelier Ball

AMERICAN'S ACTION ASTOUNDS FORD FRICK

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—With their ranks split wide open by the "dead ball" issue, the National and American Leagues met in a joint session today.

All the old rivalry between the two circuits flared anew as they sought to reach an agreement on the type of baseball to be put in play for the 1938 season.

Yesterday the National League voted to adopt a "deader" ball for 1938—slightly thicker in cover than the sphere used by the two circuits for the past three years, while the American League voted to retain the present and more livelier ball.

Experiments Unsuccessful

When word of the American League action reached the Nationals, the reactions were nothing short of amazement. Ford Frick, president of the National League, declared:

"I can't understand it. Both leagues definitely voted last year that a less lively ball was to be adopted for the 1938 season. We entered our meeting with the idea that it was a cut and dried matter."

"Furthermore, if my memory is correct," Frick added, "two American League clubs—Cleveland and Boston—originally instituted action for a slower ball."

William Harridge, president of the American League, explained:

"The American League owners did not believe that the experiments conducted with the three new type baseballs were successful and therefore decided to retain the old ball. We did not feel bound by last year's action."

Westminster Floor Team Of Last Season Intact; New Stars Join Squad

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 8.—Fifteen Westminster college floormen are fighting hard under Coach Grover C. Washabaugh to be among the first-ten which the Titan coach will carry with him on games this season.

With no first-string losses last year through graduation, Coach Washabaugh has the first six-men from last year's Titan team, in addition to several good freshman prospects. This year's starters are likely to be the same as last season's: Demo and Gilliland, forwards; Backus, center; and Grubb, Miller and Krivosh, guards. On these men Washabaugh will place his hopes for getting off to a good start in his first year of coaching at the Titan institutions.

Out for berths on the Titan five, in addition to these men, are Tom Patton, lanky freshman from West Middlesex; Harold Pfau, Springfield, O.; Dan Mamula, Pittsburgh freshman, who won two letters at South high under Washabaugh; Bill Ruefle, Pittsburgh, former Peabody star football lineman; Tony Vallicenti, Mt. Lebanon, another basketball and football star under Washabaugh; Charles Miller, two-letter guard from Johnstown high; Alfred Lindsay, three-letter guard from Aspinwall; Sam Vidnovic, McKeesport floorman and transfer from Carnegie Tech; Richard Thompson, three-letter winner from Mt. Jackson; and Perry Black, three-sport letter-winner from Brentwood high.

Coach Washabaugh, although he used a man-to-man style of play in South High, where he won two state championships in basketball, will use the zone-defense this year, which has been popular for ten years at Westminster. With the season-opener set for December 14 at Kent State, the Titan coach is putting his men through defense-drills at present, with daily exercises in rope-skipping and medicine-ball tossing.

In two practice-games, the Titans have showed better defense than offense, winning from the Youngstown Sheet and Tube team, and the Buhl club, Sharon. Unaccustomed to taken advantage of the breaks and a fast get-away, the Titans lost many chances to score by too-deliberate ball-handling. Two principals are being stressed by Coach Washabaugh: taking advantage of breaks against a slow-defense, and careful ball-handling in working the ball into the scoring-zone.

Although last season's Titan record in basketball, fourteen won to seven losses, would normally be considered a good season, it was the lowest Titan record in ten years of championship and near-championship teams. Coach Washabaugh will face the toughest schedule in years this season, against such teams as Carnegie Tech, Pitt, Akron U., W. and J., La Salle, George Washington U., Villanova and West Chester; and will find the going hard to better last year's record.

The Titans willl not make a home-appearance until January 12, against Bethany.

Stock Market Buoyant Today

Gains Are Recorded In Trading During Morning At New York

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The stock market continued buoyant today, adding gains of a point and more to yesterday's late bulge of one to three. Rails took over the leadership, along with the steels, displacing aviation shares as the recovery pacemakers.

Union Pacific was best in the rails, gaining more than two points. Atchison ran up more than a point, while N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio and Northern Pacific did nearly as well.

In a strong steel group, Bethlehem added better than a point to yesterday's 3-point spurt, U. S. Steel advanced about as much, and Youngstown climbed a little less.

Johns-Manville was up two points and U. S. Gypsum nearly the same in the building department; American Locomotive jumped close to two in the rail equipments; and DuPont a little over a point.

Elsewhere gains were of more moderate proportions. Coppers, oils, aviations, farm implements, mail orders, rubbers and amusements chalked up gains running to a point or less. Utilities continued to lag.

Commodities were mixed. Grains reacted fractionally, but cotton added to previous closings despite a record crop prediction by the Department of Agriculture. Bonds gained ground in light trading.

Abroad, markets were mostly improved. American stocks ruled higher in London, Amsterdam and Paris.

Baseball Men Start Homeward

St. Louis Browns Refuse To Part With Beau Bell

DODGERS HOPE TO SELL, TRADE MUNGO

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—After three days of futile dickering for new material, major league baseball managers threw up their hands in disguest today and began heading homeward.

First to clear town was Mickey Cochrane, Detroit Tigers' manager, who left immediaely after the St. Louis Browns told him his bid for Outfielder Beau Bell was not high enough.

The Washington-White Sox deal fell through after Jimmy Dykes, Sox manager, decided not to swap his first baseman, Zeke Bonura, for Washington's first sacker, Joe Kuhel.

James A. Mulvey, vice president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, returned to Brooklyn, adding to the confusion which has surrounded reports that the Dodgers' pitching star, Van Lingle Mungo, would be sold or traded during the current meetings.

Minor Transactions

Manager Burleigh Grimes of Brooklyn, is continuing to dicker with several clubs, but Mulvey is generally regarded as the Dodger official authorized to approve any transactions.

Several minor transactions were completed however.

Italo "Lefty" Chelini of the Chicago White Sox, was sent to St. Paul with Catcher Merv Shea and Tom McBride was turned over to the Dallas Texas League team.

Eddie Collins, business manager of the Boston Red Sox, announced the club had purchased Outfielder Ted Williams from the San Diego Pacific Coast League. In return, Boston paid an unannounced sum, Infielder Al Niemic and Outfielder Dominic Dallesandro.

Young Williams, who has only played two years of professional ball since leaving the San Diego high school, is heralded as another Joe Di Maggio.

Lewis Redeems Self By Scoring Technical Knockout

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 8.—John Henry Louis, world light heavyweight boxing champion, today basked in the satisfaction of having evened the score with Isidro Gastanaga, Spanish heavyweight.

After nine hard rounds, Lewis beat the Spaniard into submission and was awarded a technical K. O. in the ninth round of a 15-round fight. The match was a return bout as Gastanaga scored one of the season's greatest upsets in Detroit recently when he administered a 10-round beating to Lewis.

Lewis weighed in at 183, while Gastanaga had a 24½-pound weight advantage.

HALF AN EAR FATAL

(International News Service)

EL PASO, Tex.—Salvador Gonzales stood indicted today because he had only half an ear when arrested.

It began when Frankie Hart received 35 pesos for participation in a wrestling match in Juarez, Mexico. Returning home a group of men clubbed and robbed him of the money, about $10.00, but during the melee Hart managed to bite part of one man's ear off.

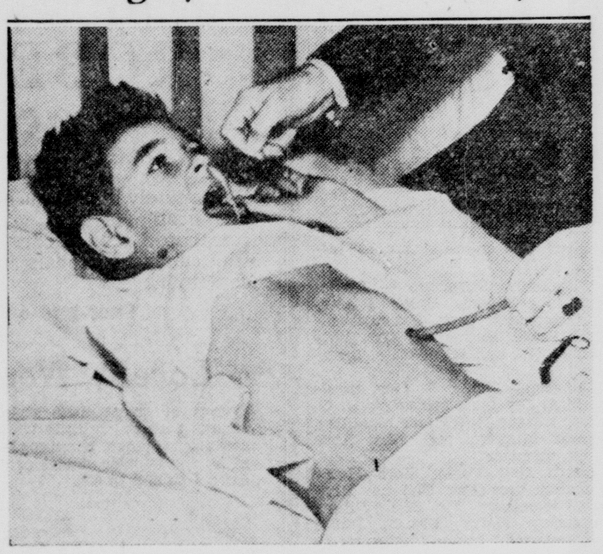

William Jennings Bryan was merely 36 when he ran for the U. S. presidency, the first time, in 1896. The minimum age for the office is 35 years.

Surgery Saves Life of Boy

Surgeons at the Abbott Hospital, Minneapolis, credited a delicate operation with having saved the life of 9-year-old Ernest Slivicki, who swallowed sulphuric acid, mistaking it for soda pop. The acid seared his esophagus, closed up his throat. Surgeons made an opening in the stomach through which the lad is fed, and worked a string through his throat. They drew rubber tubes of increasing size through the throat, to open the passage closed by the acid. (Central Press)

Army Eleven Swings Into Line

West Point Team Will Adhere To Grid Eligibility Rules

(International News Service)

WEST POINT, N. Y., Dec. 8.—Football for army players was genuine stuff today as West Point swung into line under the eligibility rules of "Annapolis and the leading civilian colleges."

Briefly, the announcement by Major General William D. Conner, superintendent, means that army has abandoned its long-time policy of permitting future generals to play three years of varsity football regardless of how many years of varsity play might be behind them at some other institution.

It means that the famous break with Annapolis after the 1927 game will not recur.

Stagg To Lead Team Against Maroons

Famous Coach Will Provide Dramatic Touch Next Season

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Amos Alonzo Stagg, who for 41 years coached the University of Chicago football teams, is coming back next year—to lead his College of the Pacific eleven into action against the Maroons.

This dramatic bit of schedule making, which for the first time will pit the "grand old man" against the school he served so long, was announced by Midway officials today. Stagg will be 76 when he comes home, and it will be his 49th consecutive season as a grid mentor.

All Star Team Needs Only Three

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Only three players remained to be selected today to complete the east all-star football team which will play in the annual east-west Shrine game here New Year's Day.

Selection of Ray King, end, and Louis Midler, tackle, of the Minnesota Gophers brought the total of eastern players to 19. King and Midler were almost unanimously selected on all mid-west teams this season.

Johnny Michelson, captain of the Pittsburgh Panthers, and Frank Souchak, end, also of Pitt, will play in the game, it was announced.

Bernie Bierman of Minnesota, acting for the first time this year as a coach of the east team, says King and Midler were among the best players he has ever coached.

County School Districts Have Annual Election

Reports Of Elections Held Monday Evening Are Received By Syling

WAYNE TOWNSHIP HAS NO MEETING

Reports of the election of officers by the various county school districts are coming in to the office of County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling. The annual reorganization meetings in the various districts except in Wayne township, took place Monday evening.

In Wayne township, there is a mixup, due to the fact that Chewton voters, which has an independent district, were permitted to vote for Wayne township school directors. This is illegal, Mr. Syling states, as the Chewton vote changed the result of the election. A similar situation was reported in Edinburg, which also has an independent school district, but the vote did not change the result of the election.

In the county districts, the secretary and treasurer does not necessarily have to be a member of the board. Shenango township was the only district reporting today which elected all of its officers from the membership of the board. In the other districts, one or the other of these offices is filled by a non-member of the board.

Election reports which had been received this morning are as follows:

Wilmington Township — John Walker, president; Ralph McFarland, secretary; G. M. Potter, treasurer; David McConnell, Mrs. William Moore, and Roy Moose, members.

Chewton—Charles B. Guy, president; A. Jay Guy, secretary; H. G. Allen, treasurer; William McMillen, Russell Murphy, and Mrs. Essie Tillia, members.

South New Castle Boro—Harry Cameron, president; Clarence Hennon, secretary; R. Don Wilson, treasurer; Harry Blesch, Ralph Kroesen, and Thomas Phelps, members.

North Beaver township—W. S. Casley, president; A. J. McCalla, secretary; V. I. Mandich, treasurer; Samuel D. Gibson, Mrs. Dick Thompson, and Miss Mary Black, members.

Shenango township — Samuel Houk, president; Alex McConaghy, vice president; G. E. Lawrence, secretary; George Body, treasurer; John Kalijainen, member.

According to reports parents secreted Allsopp's bicycle. Another boy went to his home last night, called him out and told him he knew where it was.

Allsopp accompanied the youth to an alley near the pottery. Another boy answered a whistle signal. While one held Allsopp the other was said to have stolen 10 cents from his pockets.
